ABSTRACT

Novel compounds relating to the lipopolyamine family and comprise at least one cyclic amidine function are provided. The novel compounds form nucleolipid complexes when contacted with nucleic acids. The compounds are useful for transferring nucleic acids into cells by in vitro, ex vivo or in vivo methods.